

High-frequency words taught as 'sight recognition' for Foundation

The National Literacy Strategy includes a list of words to be taught by the end of Foundation. These are essential high-frequency words which pupils will need; even to tackle the simplest sentences. Some have irregular or difficult spellings and can be hard to predict from surrounding text. Some are also 'tricky' words; these are underlined below. We will continue to work on these words in school and they will be included in your child's home learning activities.
